

PLAYBILL®

THE NATIONAL THEATRE MAGAZINE

July 31, 2003

$2.50

WHAT'S ENTERTAINMENT

by Bruce Feld

A look at what's on screen and in bookstores

Stitched in Stars

Garmento, a stiletto-tipped send up of the designer jeans craze and its accompanying corruption, is the latest low-budget independent to make capitol use of New York theatre actors.

Juan Carlos Hernandez, from Play Yourself, is the tantrum-throwing designer primitive who lords a tad childishly over a domain of his own making. Among the power brokers buzzing around this empire are Saundra Santiago (now of Nine), David Thornton, On the Waterfront's Jerry Grayson, The Green Bird's Katie MacNichol, Side Man's Kevin Geer and My One and Only's Denny Dillon.

Juan Carlos Hernandez (center) in Garmento